

Brave Iranian women again at the front of the fight for equality

The 27 years of permanent presence of Iranian women in the fight for their equitable rights as well as their courage and their fortitude in this fight that is accompanied by suppression and violence have caused amazement and admiration in the world.

The outcry of the brave women, students and the youth for freedom and equality in Iran makes Iranians in the country and all over the world proud and enthusiastic.

We, the supporters of the referendum movement, back their call and their invitation to their peaceful convention against the discriminating law in Iran. Our thoughts in this dangerous but hopeful moment are with all those signers of the appeal and with the participants in this get-together.

7th June 2006

Referendum Movement Iran